THE BROKEN CFPB HAS ABANDONED ALABAMIANS

CONSUMER ADVOCACY DAY 2026

The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) is the only federal financial regulator with the sole mission to protect consumers. It is the primary federal supervisor of non-banks, including debt collectors, student loan servicers, payday lenders, non-bank mortgage companies, and credit reporting agencies.

When consumers submit complaints to the CFPB, the agency can use its authority to hold financial institutions accountable for violations of the law. In addition to enforcement, the CFPB relies on complaints to inform its supervisory and rulemaking work. The results speak for themselves. Since its launch, the CFPB has secured over $21 billion in relief for harmed consumers.

In Alabama...

- Complaints increased by 106% under the broken CFPB.
- Since the change in CFPB leadership, the relief rate for Alabamians decreased from 49 to 35 percentage points.
- The top categories of complaints were:
  - Credit Reporting (92%)
